High points of the mentoring sessions

Highpoints of the mentoring sessions

As a mentor I regularly talk, discuss problems with mentees. In most of the cases the discussion was informal and in maximum cases it was on call. As a mentor I observed that they hesitate to discuss their problems, they do not concentrate in studies, they face problems in understanding in class. To overcome these problems I, as a mentor, regularly contact them and try to solve their difficulties.

The followings were the steps taken by me as a mentor:

1. First discussed with the mentees and analysed the problems faced by students then found out their remedials.
2. Provides notes, books, reference books etc to help them in study.
3. Try to keep in touch and have a good relationship with guardians.
4. Encourage them in their study.

High points of the mentoring sessions

Highpoints of the mentoring sessions

An orientation session was conducted at the beginning of semester to introduce the mentor-mentee pair and establish opportunities for the mentoring relationship. They were provided with an overview of the program structure, academic necessities and available resources.

Regular Meetings were scheduled to discuss academic progress, challenges and goals. These meetings provided an opportunity for the mentee to seek guidance on course selection, study strategies and career aspirations.

Academic support and advice have been provided curated to the mentee's individual needs. This included recommending additional study materials, providing explanation on course content and offering tips for effective time management and exam preparation.

Discussions regarding future career paths and opportunities were an integral part of the mentor-mentee meetings. Insights has been given for potential career upliftment, as well as advice on internships, research opportunities and professional development activities.

The mentee has made significant progress towards achieving their established goals, demonstrating commitment and dedication to their personal and professional development. They have also shown improvement in various skills, including sports, cultural activities, enhancing their overall competency and confidence.

With a goal to foster a supportive and constructive relationship with them, here are some points that are focused on during these sessions:

- Provided guidance on effective study habits, time management and exam preparation techniques for their academic development.

- Encouraged them to reflect on their strengths, weaknesses and areas for improvement. Worked on enhancing essential skills such as communication, critical thinking and problem-solving.
- Helped them in exploring their research interests and guided them to network within their academic community and beyond.
- Aided in navigating internship and job applications, including resume writing and interview preparation, providing information about various industries, job markets and potential career paths.
- Discussed approaches for balancing academic commitments, extracurricular activities and personal life. Offered support and resources for managing stress and maintaining mental well-being.
- Provided positive feedback on academic performance and other areas of development. Inspired them to reflect on their skills, learning and growth throughout their academic journey.

MENTORING PROGRAM

Date: 15-02-24
 Time: 10-11 am
 Sem: IV (H)

A mentorship class has been taken for the 4th semester students for analysing their outcomes & motivate them. The following points are discussed:

- 1) These scoring lower SGPAs were analysed and asked them to give more time to learning things. Moreover, screen time & read books.
- 2) They were suggested to devote more time in the subjects they are finding tough & maintain regular study.
- 3) Encouraged to ask questions & resolve doubts.
- 4) To give prompt & firm responses whenever asked anything.
- 5) Analyse themselves also for scoring less marks.
- 6) The ones having backlog papers are asked to complete previous years question papers for those years & submit them at the end of February, 2024 completion.
- 7) Motivated them to think about their future & to work hard by giving various real life examples.
- 8) Try to be a good citizen which they can do by:
 - Progressing themselves
 - Do some social work
 - Join NSS

- Make them aware how they have utilised tax payers money for their studies & returned it as their duty of responsibility to do contribute towards the betterment of our country.
- How by becoming a good & successful citizen they can make the world a better place.
- Most of them has shown positive response by scoring more SGPAs as compared to 1st & 2nd semesters. And that they could improve even more.

High points of the mentoring sessions

Highpoints of the mentoring sessions

The mentor-mentee meetings were conducted regularly to engage with the mentees, delving into various aspects of their academic journey, mental and physical well-being, and any challenges that might affect their career path. These sessions provided a platform for open dialogue, allowing mentees to express themselves freely regarding their circumstances.

During these interactions, we focused on understanding and discussing each mentee's academic growth, including their commitment to learning and efforts to seek additional resources for self-improvement. We also addressed their experiences in group projects, acknowledging the development of reliable teamwork skills. Furthermore, we explored strategies for effective time management to enhance productivity, particularly in light of challenges balancing academic responsibilities with other commitments. We celebrated achievements in maintaining a balance between hobby pursuits and studies, recognizing the discipline and resilience demonstrated in managing such demanding schedules. Throughout these discussions, we also addressed concerns regarding punctuality and attendance, working collaboratively with all mentees and their parents to identify areas for improvement and develop strategies for better time management.

The highpoints of the mentoring sessions are

1. Encouraging critical thinking skills by fostering curiosity and exploration in the subjects, aiming to enhance their problem-solving abilities and analytical thinking.
2. Providing support and guidance to navigate personal challenges, whether academic, emotional, or social, to create a conducive learning environment and promote overall well-being.

3. Cultivating effective communication and interpersonal skills to help students express themselves confidently, collaborate with peers, and interact positively with others in different contexts.
4. Offering guidance on career exploration, including internships, volunteer opportunities, and industry insights, to empower students in making informed decisions about their future professional paths.
5. Promoting holistic development by emphasizing the importance of physical health, mental resilience, and emotional intelligence, nurturing well-rounded individuals prepared for the demands of academic and personal life.

High points of the mentoring sessions

Highpoints of the mentoring sessions

The mentor-mentee meetings were held frequently to interact with the mentees to understand and discuss their academic career, mental, physical health and different issues that can impact on their carrier. We try to rectify most of the problems and make room for them to say freely regarding their situation.

The highpoints of the mentoring sessions are

1. To put more effort to give them intellectual knowledge and make their minds more innovative
2. To address their various issues and try to rectify them.
3. To put more impression on their personality development.
4. To aware them about various information related to their carrier and higher studies.
